Meet Some of the Families We Helped Last Year

Ted & I are trying our best to make ends meet. Thankfully, because of the Nakon Foundation, Ted has not been forced to think about a second job. He has been able to be with me at each treatment, each consultation and each surgery. I am so thankful for this, as he is my best friend. . . . However, along with this comes unpaid time from work. . . . This is going to be tough, but we are going to make it! We have really been forced to evaluate everything we buy, and the kids are not going to have new clothes for school this year. We are trying to make due with what they have, but they each need new shoes . . . and the boys are so rough on their jeans that they need new jeans too. Makayla is just beginning to understand that we have been buying her clothes from Good Will, so I wanted to get her some really "new" clothes this year. Plus she has grown 4 inches so nothing fits her.

I could go on and on, but I know every family has its problems and ours is just one of many. Thank you for your assistance and for even considering helping us further.

I never thought in a million years that something like this (breast cancer) would happen to me. I think about our financial situation all the time, and it scares me more than the cancer itself. I have two kids to worry about, so I wanted the fastest way to get better. I did four chemo treatments and six weeks of radiation treatments. . . . I try to keep my spirits up for the kids' sake. I think I am doing fine, but then have moments of a meltdown. I am ready for all of this to be over. My husband is a Cleveland Police Officer. We live pretty much pay check to pay check. He works several part-time jobs to help with the monthly bills.

One of our most recent recipients, Bessie & her grandchildren, express their appreciation.

Thank you so much for the grant for our utility bills! What a blessing that is to me and my family! Because you are doing this, my family has extra money now for food and necessities and my utilities won't be disconnected!
God Bless You!

I lost my job after eight years in 2004 and thought that was the end of my world. In April, 2005 my father had another heart attack. I moved home for two months, took care of him, helped with rehabilitation. In June, 2005 I found my lump and moved to my friends in Mentor to go through surgery, chemo and radiation. . . . My parents have been paying on my car and insurance as I need transportation to chemo and radiation, plus to go to my parents' to help with my father. It's been a long year. Please consider helping me out some way as my resources are all tapped out.

Don't Forget The Silent Auction!

Proceeds from this event help to provide financial assistance to those families who are impacted by the staggering costs of breast cancer treatment.

Over 275,000 Americans were diagnosed last year with breast cancer. For many of them, extended treatments will require time away from work, loss of income, mounting medical bills and additional stress on the family. Two income families are often forced to rely on a single paycheck, meaning that bills often go unpaid. Many single parent families are forced into bankruptcy. It is not uncommon for families to lose their home while one parent is undergoing breast cancer treatments. This added financial stress can devastate families. Your donation goes a long way in helping us help these families.
